Never in my life have I once thought to myself that I needed a game so badly until I saw it. Would pay for future DLC tbh.. Best game I've ever played 10/10

I cried at the end ;(. A bit different.. Please do not BUY this game! This is worst indie ever i played on my life and even for that PRICE. $5 for 1 hour or less for this game and you can do is touching bouncing duck, boring game. Other way you would save ur $5 or buy any better Indie game for $5 with 10+ hour game. Also the dev promised us to add some features and adding some options with mouse settings,vsync settings,graphics settings and then what? After a half year he still didn't did something with it. Just silent and silent. So DO NOT BUY THIS GAME if you want save your money.. I never knew I needed this game until I played it...

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=H96uXN-mIGk>. Bounce a duck. Keep bouncing it. Eventually bounce two ducks.

Eventually host a duck bouncing party.

10/10, totally what you'd expect of a "Bouncing Duck Simulator".. the game is the best once you figure out how to get negative points and open the chest. tuli tästä pelistä nasu mieleen. In a world... gone mad!

Throw ducks for fun...

Actually gets pretty intense on the hardware with enough baby ducks.. this game is cool

Great simulator.. would be a good game if the sound actually worked (yes its definitely not a problem my end). Who could've guessed bouncing ducks would be this fun. This is a physics/puzzle game in the same general vein as Goat Simulator but much shallower and more limited.

You're in a small room throwing a rubber duck around. The more you can bounce it, the more "unlocks" you get (ducks with different physical bouncing properties, things to enlarge some ducks and so on). A counter on the wall lets you know how much the ducks have bounced. Growing one duck quite large helps because rolling on the floor apparently counts as a bounce (yes, the bouncing duck simulator is so badly implemented that the developers didn't bother differentiating rolling from bouncing... you had one job, guys)

They want $5 for a non-competitor to Goat Simulator... which in itself was a novelty game that didn't really go anywhere. How can I possibly recommend this?. thank u duck simulator 🐊🦆🦆🦆 :)). It's a meme game, that could be developed by any reasonably familiarised with Unity developer. Has no depth, crappy graphics and dozen achievements in place of a game objective. Just no - it's a waste of time.. Just buy this game, don't look up things about it, just play the game and enjoy yourself. Worth the money.
